

Course Number

Latin 201-3

Course Title

Introduction to Latin Literature: Catullus

Quarter/Year

Spring 2021

Day/Time

MWF 10-10:50am (Section 20)
MWF 2-2:50pm (Section 21)

Instructor

Byros

Degree/Distro Fulfillment

Classics/WCAS language requirement

Required Textbooks

1) D.H. Garrison, The Student's Catullus, 4th ed., U. of Oklahoma Press 2012. ISBN: 9780806142326

2) Catullus: The Complete Poems (Transl. Guy Lee), Oxford World's Classics 2009. ISBN: 0199537577

Assessments

Quizzes, final exam, preparation & class participation, and a team translation project.

Course Description:

The third quarter of second-year Latin combines literary analysis with mastery of grammar and syntax at the intermediate level. This is mainly a workshop course, with discussion focusing on questions to and from members of the course. Though translation will be a component in evaluation, it will be a relatively minor criterion of success. The main topics of discussion will be how meaning and emphasis are communicated throughout the poetry of Catullus.

Though Latin 201-3 concentrates on language skills, it also develops skills of analysis that are foundational for the future study of literature in any language.

A grade of C- or better in this course satisfies the WCAS language requirement.