

Course Number

LATIN 201-3

Course Title

Introduction to Latin Literature: Catullus

Quarter/Year

Spring 2022

Day/TimeMWF 10-10:50
or MWF 11-11:50Instructor

Graziela Byros

Distro Fulfillment

Language and Verbal Arts

Course Description

The third quarter of second-year Latin combines literary analysis with mastery of grammar and syntax at the intermediate level. This is mainly a workshop course, with discussion focusing on questions to and from members of the course. Though translation will be a component in evaluation, it will be a relatively minor criterion of success. The main topics of discussion will be how meaning and emphasis are communicated throughout the poetry of Catullus.

Though Latin 201-3 concentrates on language skills, it also develops skills of analysis that are foundational for the future study of literature in any language.

A grade of C- or better in this course satisfies the WCAS language requirement.

Required Textbooks

1) D.H. Garrison, The Student's Catullus, 4th ed., U. of Oklahoma Press 2012. ISBN: 9780806142326

2) Catullus: The Complete Poems (Transl. Guy Lee), Oxford World's Classics 2009. ISBN: 0199537577

Assessments

Attendance, Class, Participation, Exams, Final, Group Project, Homework, Quizzes, Readings

Northwestern | Department of Classics

CLASSICS@NORTHWESTERN.EDU
WWW.CLASSICS.NORTHWESTERN.EDU